In accordance with its custom of previous years the St. Paul's Luthern Church of Westcott will again observe the Lenten season. Beginning with February 21, six special Lenten services will be held, three of which are to be conducted in the English and three in the German language. In each service a portion of the history of Christ's Passion will be read and an important phase of it discussed.

The purpose of thus observing Lent is to give both the members and friends of the congregation an opportunity of becoming more intimately acquainted with the Man of sorrows, with the causes, manner and purpose of his suffering and death, and of accompanying Him in the most strenuous and bitter days of His life. To all who would grasp this opportunity a most cordial invitation is extended. Definite announcement will be made later.

A Smart Example of the Flare

Satin once more asserts its charm and lends its lustre to the graceful lines of this afternoon frock, whose slim bodice more than meets its match in a full rippling train. Fastening at the front beneath a tie, and molded to the figure, the distinguishing feature of this charming model is the circular set-on flounce dropping to form a V at the centre front. The sleeves are long and tight, flaring softly over the hand. The front and back of this frock are plain and in one piece, the flounce being finished separately and joined to the dress after it is made up. The diagram shows just how the pieces go together, and No. 1251 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 5½ yards 36-inch, or 3¾ yards 54-inch material. Price 20 cents.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FEBRUARY 7

JESUS HEALS AND SAVES A BLIND MAN

Golden Text: I am the light of the world; he that followeth Me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. John 3:12.

Lesson: John 9:1-41.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 42:1-7.

The Text Explained and Illumined

The Question Concerning the Connection Between Blindness and Sin, verses 1-3.—The Jews held that calamities were always the result of sin. Recall how insistently Job's friends tried to make him acknowledge some sin which was the cause of all his troubles. One day the disciples came upon a man who had been blind from his birth, sitting where beggars sat at the gate of the temple, and they questioned Jesus saying, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he should be born blind?" Their question implies that either the man was suffering for the sins of his parents or because he himself had sinned in some previous state of existence. The soul's pre-existence was the ancient Greek idea, and is the dream of the modern Hindu mystic.

In pointing out the absurdity of this question, Dr. W. J. Dawson adds: "Yet there is one thing not to be overlooked: It is the ineradicable moral instinct which leads men to connect penalty with wrong-doing. Let men say what they will, all men have a certain instinct that the Power which rules the universe is just; that moral cause and effect run through all the world; that no wrong-doing on the part of the humblest, committed in the most absolute secrecy, or covered by what seems the most complete effacement of time, can or does escape punishment."

Pain In Her Back

Pills With Beneficial Results

Mrs. G. Fowler had suffered for six months with backache and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Arthur, Ont. — (Special). — Mrs. Grace J. Fowler, a well-known resident here is very satisfied with Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I have used several boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and found great relief in them," Mrs. Fowler states. "I have suffered with backache for six months. A friend of mine had told me about Dodd's Kidney Pills, so I decided to give them a trial. I have taken six boxes and the pain in my back and across my kidneys has all gone. I am very thankful to you."

Mrs. Fowler's troubles came from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They put them in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Without pure blood there can be no good health. Insist on having Dodd's, the kidney pill your neighbours use.

Self-Poisoning Increasingly
Common*Modern Living Habits Promote Self-Poisoning—
Thousands are Victims

The average man or woman does not enjoy consistent good health. Loss of appetite, headaches, biliousness and a lack of enthusiasm for either work or play are constant complaints.

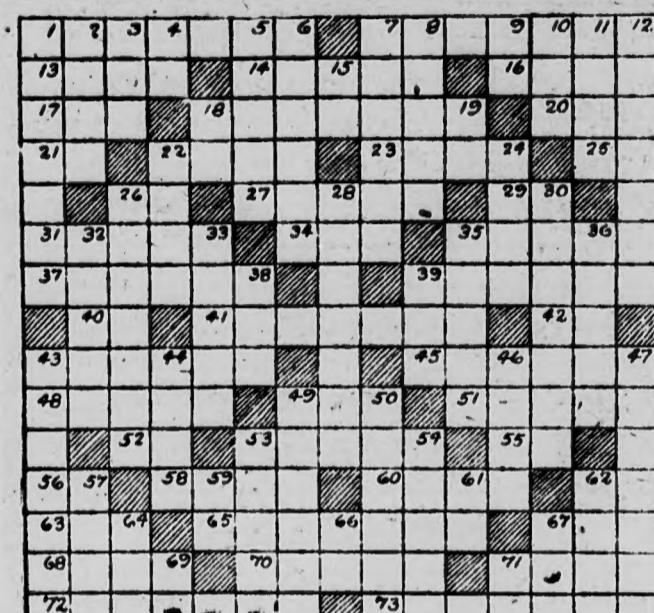

Scientists have ascertained that such a condition is usually caused by self-poisoning resulting from constipation.

Due to modern living habits, the natural secretion which promotes regular elimination by softening the bowel contents, is often deficient—especially among middle-aged people. The poison from waste matter remaining in the systems of people thus affected is the insidious enemy of good health.

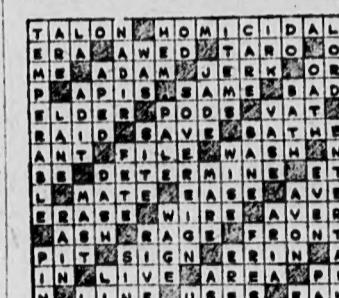

Such people need Nujol, because Nujol softens the waste matter and permits thorough and regular bowel elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles. It helps Nature help you.

Ask your druggist for Nujol to-day—and remember, look for the name "Nujol" in red on both bottle label and package.

Ancient Dinosaur Eggs

Men Traversed Two Thousand Miles Over Unmapped Territory In Mongolia

Forty dinosaur eggs estimated to be ten million years old have been brought to San Francisco by the Roy Chapman Andrews expedition to Mongolia. Mr. Andrews, when interviewed, confirmed the theory that all life originated in an Asiatic plateau now the Gobi Desert, from which the people of the earth migrated all over the world. The expedition, he said, traversed five thousand miles, two thousand of which were over unmapped territory. The expedition found the fossilized skull of a two-horned beast probably millions of years old.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitagraph Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Baree, his beloved Nepeese, daughter of the trapper, gone, wandered alone over the trails, through the forests, everywhere he might find food for himself. At length he encountered the game-snare laid by McTaggart, the factor, and he stripped them systematically and feasted on the prey they yielded. McTaggart, missing his game, and suspecting the nearby footprints were those of the dog, his old enemy, started also a search for Baree.

It was the fifth day that Bush McTaggart returned to his post. He was in an ugly mood. Only Valence of the four Frenchmen was there, and it Valence who heard his story, and afterward heard him cursing Marie. She came into the store a little later, big-eyed and frightened, one of her cheeks flaming red where McTaggart had struck her. While the storekeeper was getting her the canned salmon McTaggart wanted for his dinner, Valence round the opportunity to whisper softly in her ear:

"M'sieu Leric has trapped a silver fox," he said with low triumph. "He loves you, mon ami, and he will have a splendid catch by spring—and sends you this message from his cabin up on The Little Black Bear With No Tail: Be ready to fly when the soft sounds come!"

Marie did not look at him, but she heard, and her eyes shone so like stars when the young storekeeper gave her the salmon that he said to Valence, when she had gone: "Blue Death, but she is still beautiful at times, Valence!"

To which Valence nodded with an odd smile.

CHAPTER XXVI.

By the middle of January the war

"Valence found the opportunity to whisper softly in her ear."

the fur he came across; his greatest pleasure came to be—not in eating—but in destroying. The fires of his hatred burned fiercer as the weeks passed, until at last he would snap and tear with his long fangs at the snow where McTaggart's feet had passed. And all of the time, away back of his madness, there was a vision of Nepeese that continued to grow more and more clearly in his brain. That first Great Loneliness—the loneliness of the long days and longer nights of his waiting and seeking on the Gray Loon, oppressed him again as it had oppressed him in the early days of her loss. On starry or moonlit nights he set forth his wailing cries for her again, and Bush McTaggart, listening to them in the middle of the night, felt strange shivers run up his spine.

The man's hatred was different than the beast's, but perhaps even more implacable. With McTaggart it was not hatred alone. There was mixed with it an indefinable, and superstitious fear, a thing he laughed at, a thing he cursed at, but which clung to him as surely as the scent of his trail clung to Baree's nose. Baree no longer stood for the animal alone; he stood for Nepeese. That was the thought that insisted in growing in McTaggart's ugly mind. Never a day passed now that he not think of the Willow; never a night came and went without a visioning of her face. He even fancied, on a certain night of storm, that he heard her voice out in the wailing of the wind—and less than a minute later he heard faintly a distant howl out in the forest. That night his heart was filled with a leaden dread. He shook himself. He smoked his pipe until the cabin was ed almost inconceivable that he had not thought of it before.

He hurried back to Post Lac Bain.

The second day after he was on the trail at dawn. This time he carried a pack in which there were a dozen strong wolf traps freshly dipped in beaver oil, and a rabbit which he had snared the previous night. Now and then he looked anxiously at the sky. It was clear until late in the afternoon, when banks of dark clouds began rolling up from the east. Half an hour later a few flakes of snow began falling. McTaggart let one of these drop on the back of his mittened hand, and examined it closely. It was soft and downy, and he gave vent to his satisfaction. If was what he wanted. Before morning there would be six inches of freshly fallen snow covering the trails.

He stopped at the next trap-house and quickly set to work. First he threw away the poisoned bait in the "house" and replaced it with the rabbit. Then he began setting his wolf traps. Three of these he placed close to the "door" of the house, through which Baree would have to reach for the bait. The remaining nine he scattered at intervals of a foot or sixteen inches apart, so that when he was done a veritable cordon of traps guarded the house. He did not fasten the chains, but let them lay loose in the snow. If Baree got into one trap he would get into others and there would be no use of toggles. His work done, McTaggart hurried on through the thickening twilight of winter night to his shack. He was highly elated. This time there could be no such thing as failure. He had sprung every trap on his way from Lac Bain. In none of those traps would Baree find anything to eat until he came to the "nest" of twelve wolf traps.

A PERFECT MEDICINE
FOR LITTLE ONESBaby's Own Tablets Should be in Every Home Where There Are Children

This gave McTaggart his new idea. He blazed himself a fresh trail through the forests parallel with his trap-line but at least five hundred yards distant from it. Wherever trap or deadfall was set this new trail struck sharply in, like the point of a V, so that he could approach his line unobserved. By this strategy he believed that in time he was sure of getting a shot at the dog. Again it was the man who was reasoning, and again it was the man who was defeated. The first day that McTaggart followed his new "trail" Baree also struck that trail. For a little while it puzzled him. Three times he cut back and forth between the old and the new trail. Then there was no doubt. The new trail was the fresh trail, and he followed in the footsteps of the Factor from Lac Bain. McTaggart did not know what was happening until his return trip, when he saw the story told in the snow. Baree had visited each trap, and without exception he had approached each time at the point of the inverted V. After a week of futile hunting, of lying in wait, of approaching at every point of the wind—a period during which McTaggart had twenty times cursed himself into fits of madness, another idea came to him. It was like an inspiration, and so simple that it seemed

Suffered So She Could Not Walk. Restored to Health
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Minesing, Ontario.—"I am a practical nurse and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to suffering women. For three months I was almost helpless and could not sit at the table long enough to drink a cup of tea. Many a time my husband carried me to bed, I would be so weak. Then he read in the paper of a woman suffering as I did who got better after taking the Vegetable Compound, so he went and got it for me. When I had taken three bottles I was just like a new woman and have had splendid health ever since. When I feel any bearing-down pains I always take it; sometimes a half bottle or whatever I need. It is my only medicine and I have told many a one about it. Any one wanting to know more about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I will gladly write to her. I do all I can to recommend it for I feel I owe my life and strength to it." —Mrs. NEAL BOWSER, R.R. 1, Minesing, Ontario.

Do you feel broken-down, nervous, and weak sometimes? Do you have this horrid feeling of fear which sometimes comes to women when they are not well? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such a time. It always helps, and if taken regularly and persistently will relieve this condition.

The 1925 total of dividends paid and declared by gold and silver mining companies in Northern Ontario is $10,402,174, representing a gain of $2,013,131 over the dividend record of 1924 and constitutes the greatest record for Canadian precious metal mining industries. From 1904 to 1925, since silver was discovered in Cobalt in 1904 and gold found in Porcupine and Kirkland Lake in 1909 and 1910, records show total dividends of $150,774,199 from these fields. The aggregate profits are now averaging $1,000,000 a month.

Bettering the record of 3,475,24 bushels of all grains marketed on C.P.R. western lines Thursday, November 19, A. Hatton, general superintendent transportation of the system, has reported that 3,559,000 bushels were marketed on Friday, November 20. From August 1 to November 20 inclusive, 148,678,445 bushels of all grains have been marketed at stations adjacent to Canadian Pacific Railway lines as compared to 109,651,136 bushels for the same period last year, an increase of about 35 per cent.

Changed Methods in Handling Milk

Where proper sanitary measures are neglected the bacteria in a drop of milk look like this.

Where sanitary precautions are taken there are few harmful bacteria in milk. The white specks are bacteria.

How much do the farmers and dairymen of the United States pay in toll to bacteria in milk? In process of arriving at the answer to this question, representatives of leading milk and dairy products companies of New York recently met with officials of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, with the Department of Farms and Markets and the College of Agriculture at the Experiment Station, Geneva.

The bacterial count is being used more and more as a basis for determining how much per pound a farmer is to be paid for his milk.

Getting the bacterial count under a given figure means millions of dollars annually to Uncle Sam's dairymen.

Dairymen, themselves, are alive to this question, and where the milk produced is a material part of the income from the farm, complete sanitary precautions are being taken to insure a low bacterial count in the milk.

Precautions start at the beginning of milk production and continue clear through until the time the milk is in the hands of the consumer.

To begin with, properly ventilated, easily cleaned stables are provided;

plenty of bedding is given the cows;

platforms are built the right length to accommodate the particular breed of cows that are kept; the gutter is built wide and deep; the animal is clipped about the udder and flanks periodically. The cows are groomed carefully every day and just before milking, loose particles of dirt are brushed off, or, when the cow is clipped, wiped off with a damp cloth. Small top milk pails are used to receive milk from the cows. Utensils such as milk pails, milk cans, milking machines and separators, are thoroughly sterilized after each milking.

The fresh-drawn milk is immediately removed to the cooling tank where it is cooled to a temperature of 50 degrees to 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

On receipt at the dairy, the creamery or the condensery, the same extreme sanitary precautions prevail. White garbed workers who have passed medical inspection, who observe rules of personal cleanliness as well as hygiene in the handling of milk and milk products, go about their duties efficiently and intelligently. Immediately after the pasteurizing of whole milk, it is bottled and capped. The date of bottling is stamped on the cap and the milk is usually sold before 36 hours have elapsed since pasteurizing.

What a difference over the old-time methods of handling milk!

It is these changed methods in the handling of the nation's milk supply that has swelled the individual consumption of milk to more than 54 gallons per year.

Neglect is one of the devil's main tools.

An official 1925 statistical report shows that 12,000,000 young men in North America have at present absolutely no church connection, 7,000 of these have never darkened a church door. The challenge is to all the non-church goers to help improve this record.

Mr. Man! your best friend, not even your mother can answer "present" for you in church or in heaven, but, there is a place in the Christian ranks for you. Come! step in.

The interest in the Evangelistic meetings, now on, is spreading, and the spiritual atmosphere is rising every night. Up to the time of this writing, Wednesday, a half dozen, or more, have already yielded their lives as converts, and have testified to the saving grace of Jesus Christ. Great things are expected before the week is over.

As to the question re closing or continuing the meeting, next week, this has not yet been decided, but will be announced as possible next Sunday.

Fathers and Sons

From either the contemplation of abstract phases of life, or the fun and bustle of ordinary affairs, it is refreshing to turn to an occasion of robust, red-blooded companionship such as is called forth by the association of fathers and sons in the annual observance of Father and Son Week.

There is much philosophizing on the Brotherhood of Man, much dogmatizing on the Fatherhood of God, but all is meaningless without a proper appreciation of the vital relationship between the individual father and the individual son.

No more congenial field for development can be given a boy in which he may discover the true relationships which should exist in life than in the atmosphere of an understanding father's influence. And what matters of vast import in a very few years' time depend on the impressions obtained in early youth!

A long stride has been made from the days when the old woodshed interview was about the only occasion on which a father became intimate with his son and summed up the then acknowledged position of the father as judge and disciplinarian, and that only, with scarce a thought more devoted to the boy's welfare than to see he was home when required and out of sight the rest of the time. We are thankful that today we can point to the fellowship of father and son in contacts running throughout all the family activities, in many interests of the community and reaching out to things Provincial and even Dominion-wide.

To what may we attribute this change? In a large measure it is due to a keener appreciation of all the aptness and truth of the poet's statement that "the boy is father to the man." The fathers realize it in the winged passage of time, daily clipping the opportunities for them to prepare and inspire their lads to greater things than they themselves have done and in the urgency of fulfilling their privileged duty of leading out their boys toward a truer sense of values.

The sons recognize it in the urge to look beyond the present to that slim time which forever beckons to youth—the time of the realization of their powers and possibilities. And the sense of his not long to be delayed responsibility throws him back to glean hungrily those truths which companionship with a mature mind might give him. And in the impact of this seeking for the best in each, the father meets the son not merely as a progenitor, but as the sympathetic counselor and guide, and the son realizes he is not only the male offspring of this man but is of the fibre of his very heart and soul and holds at his disposal the best of which the father is capable.

So, with the thought of the need, the place and purpose of this high relationship between Father and Son, the C.S.E.T. movement has made a very definite place for its development. During the month of February a week is set aside in which to foster the fellowship of Fathers and Sons. To many fathers this time is a time of real reconsecration to the biggest job of their lives—that of upbuilding and outfolding the life of a boy, and to the boys come a realization that, though often preoccupied with business cares, Father has their best interests at heart, and a renewed trust is awakened and strengthened in the vitality of all the relationships of the home, and this finds expression in the more faithful performances of their obligations to the home.

Not only are home relationships emphasized, but also Christian fellowship in the Church. That line in Longfellow depicting the village blacksmith going on Sunday to Church and sitting amongst his boys carries a punch mightier than that delivered by the smith's muscled arms and hands on the red hot metal at the anvil. It is the unanswerable argument with those who would have you "do as I say, not do as I do."

Not only are public opportunities provided for in Church service and banquet for expression and development between Fathers and Sons, but encouragement is given to the more personal and private interchange of thoughts and ideas by means of hikes and home nights. These are golden grounds affording priceless opportunities to each participant to make his contribution to that happy estate of perfect understanding between both.

Much might be said of the details of the programme of activities during Father and Son Week. Suffice it to say that, while emphasis is laid on recognition of Fatherhood and Sonship and all they involve during the short period of one week, this is to be taken only as an indication of the necessity and worthwhileness of an understanding between Fathers and Sons based on sympathetic fellowship with and deep respect to each other the whole year round, and from this achievement of the soul will flow out a real spirit of brotherhood, embracing the height, breadth and depth of all human relationships, breathing good-will to man and honor to man's Maker.

To Obtain Publicity

Finds Newspaper the Best Medium for Reaching People

Many church denominations are now making a special effort to provide the newspapers and press associations with church news material, according to Dr. J. T. B. Smith, secular publicity secretary of the world service commission. The newspaper offers the best medium for reaching all the people, said Smith, "the non-churchgoer as well as the churchgoer."

ANAEMIA SHOWS IN VARYING SYMPTOMS

Pains and Aches Disappear When the Blood is Built Up

When the blood is thin every organ of the body suffers. So anaemia shows in indigestion, nervousness and headaches as well as in loss of color and strength. Many symptoms develop which to the patient suggest widely different diseases and so cause much needless apprehension. The quickness with which a supply of rich red blood will drive away all these pains and aches is shown by the result of treatment with such a reliable blood-building tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine is fully proved by the experience of Miss Alice Sandberg, Ogema, Sask., who says:—"I can speak with the highest praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for to this medicine I owe my present good health. Last winter, I became run-down, was pale and sickly looking. My back ached and I had severe pains in the stomach. At times my head ached and I would feel dizzy. I tried various medicines but they did not help me. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I can scarcely say how glad I am that I acted on this advice. I had not been taking the pills very long when I felt a change for the better. Day by day I became stronger. The headaches, backaches, stomach troubles and dizziness disappeared and I was again enjoying good health. You may be sure I shall ever have a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If you need a blood-building tonic begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Three Directors Issue Statement in Connection With Elevator Policy

Three directors of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, W. G. Weir, C. S. Stevenson and A. J. M. Poole issued a statement in connection with a statement of elevator policy recently made by Collin H. Burnell, president of the pool, and published in the Free Press of Jan. 12. The statement in part is as follows:

"The Free press of Jan. 12 contained a statement from Mr. Burnell carrying the heading, 'Pool Will Again Seek to Acquire Elevators.'

"This statement was issued without consultation with the board of directors of the Manitoba pool, and without authority from them.

"As three members of the Manitoba pool board, our efforts for over two months have been directed to attempting to get the boards of the pool and the U.G.G. together to discuss frankly any differences of opinion that may exist.

"We believe more can be done in this way than by the boards staying apart and each in their own meetings evolving plans to put up to the other."

Canadian Banks In Better Position To Serve Public

One of the most complete and authoritative statements ever submitted regarding the Canadian banking system and the present banking situation was made by C. E. Neill, General Manager of The Royal Bank of Canada, at the annual meeting. Mr. Neill said in part:

"Through amalgamation, the number of banks in Canada has been slowly reduced until the present situation is analogous to the condition existing in Great Britain, where the great bulk of the banking assets of the country is in the hands of five large banks. Fears have been expressed that the concentration of banking power in the hands of a comparatively few institutions may lead to bad results, such as stacking of competition or neglect of local interests. The feeling in regard to competition seems to have had its inception in the fear of what may happen in the future, rather than as a result of developments to date, for no one can say that the competition between banks is less severe than it has been in the past. We believe that the contrary is the case, and that a large proportion of the savings affected through amalgamations have been passed on to the public in the form of increased service and relatively lower charges.

"The merits of branch banking as compared with a system of unit banks are a subject of debate in the United States today, and opponents of branch banking have stressed the advantage to local interests of having their banking business in the hands of local institutions, which are claimed to be more intimately in touch with conditions at the points concerned. For Canada, however, the arguments in favor of branch banking are, in my opinion, immeasurably stronger than anything which can be said on the other side. In the development of new districts in this country the necessary funds have been supplied from older districts, and at much lower average rates than those current in the United States at the same relative stage of development. The banking history of the United States, moreover, contains a long list of banks which have failed, either through lack of proper perspective during boom periods, or because in districts where everything depends on the success of one crop or one industry, the local banks had all their eggs in one basket. I have no hesitation in saying that had Western Canada been served by unit banks the situation in 1921-22 would have been nothing short of calamitous. "A great financial institution such as The Royal Bank of Canada, covering the whole country, must have intimate, persistent and active interest in every part of Canada. We have responsibilities not only to our shareholders, but, to a degree which I hope we fully realize, to the public of Canada; in fact, there is no conflict of interest, because it is only to the extent that we contribute to the sound economic development of the country that we shall deserve or receive the confidence of the public. Self-interest will prompt us to secure a diversity of risk through the encouragement of the industries indigenous to the various parts of our country, and to keep always before us the fact that we can achieve the greatest measure of success only if our actions and policies promote and foster the best interests of every part of Canada."

MARKETING PLAN OF CANADA WEST ROAD TO SUCCESS

Saskatoon.—Development of co-operative marketing entirely through the efforts of the producers as it is being done in Western Canada was characterized by Professor C. R. Fay, University of Toronto, speaking before the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers here, as the one means of building up a marketing organization that, from the standpoint of farmers, would give lasting results.

"The eyes of the world are upon Western Canada, wondering if this great economic venture will last," the speaker declared in his opening remarks. "Judging from what Mr. McPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, has to say as to the methods of meeting the various problems that naturally arise in the development of such an undertaking, I believe that you can safely say that you are on the right road to success."

The speaker briefly traced the history of co-operative marketing in different countries of the world, including Denmark, Germany and England, where this system of disposing of farm produce had proven successful. He pointed out that in Western Canada, development was starting along similar lines.

"In Western Canada the improvement of marketing facilities for the farmers has been gradual and has always been more or less in the right direction," he said. "First we find that agricultural societies of different kinds were organized and their efforts were first directed toward improvement in shipping facilities, and a general improvement in conditions in marketing of grain, but the movement has spread and today we will find a general trend towards co-operation, by which it is hoped that the farmer will receive a reasonable margin of profit on his output."

Photograph Canada From Air

Topographical Survey Aid Air Force In Successful Work

Ottawa.—Through the closest co-operation of the Royal Air Force and the topographical survey department of the interior, 47,700 square miles of Canadian territory have been successfully photographed during the past season. This rapid progress, it is stated adds another milestone towards the successful application of aerial photography in a practical and economical way as an aid to the development of Canada's resources.

The operations were carried on in various parts of the country from air bases already established. The bulk of the work performed, however, was located in Manitoba and Western Ontario, where 37,700 square miles of forest and mineral areas were photographed.

In Ontario the Rideau Canal, Rideau Lakes and part of the Muskoka area were successfully photographed. The mapping of some 4,000 square miles were performed in the vicinity of the summer resort of Minaki and the mineral district of Red Lake, as part of the Manitoba operations. A section of The Pas districts and Hudson's Bay Railway were also photographed.

Further views were taken in Northern Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Congestion Becoming Serious

Interior Elevators Plugged As Result Of Embargo On Grain Shipments

Winnipeg.—Congestion of interior elevators as the result of the embargo on the shipment of grain to the head of the lakes and the Pacific coast has become serious, according to officials of the prairie wheat pools and the United Grain Growers, Limited.

They report that thousands of loaded cars are in the lake-head terminal yards. All the sidings between Winnipeg and Fort William are congested and filled with grain cars and with farmers still marketing grain every day, hundreds of interior elevators are plugged.

Until the all-rail movement of grain becomes greater, there will be no relief, these officers state.

It is reported that more than 10,000 cars are held up at sidings in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Sees Prosperous Times

Sir Henry Thornton Says All Signs Point to Revival of Business

Duluth, Minn.—All signs point to a promising trade revival and business prosperity in the United States and Canada during the coming years, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, told a gathering of more than 700 persons at the open forum luncheon of the local chamber of commerce here. Another successful crop, such as Canada enjoyed last fall, Sir Henry said, would make 1926 a banner year.

The Canadian railway chief gave his impression of conditions in Europe gleaned during his recent trip to England and France. Both these countries were rapidly recovering from the period of post-war depression, and the Dawes' plan, he said, has been favorably received everywhere in Europe.

Urge Empire Settlement

Prince of Wales Would Like to See More Emigration to Dominions

London.—Closer co-operation between Great Britain and the dominions in the matter of empire settlement was urged by the Prince of Wales speaking at the Australian-New Zealand luncheon club. The Prince said the great migratory stream must benefit both the over-populated Old Country and the dominions "with their vast virgin regions of possibilities."

"I should like to see more well-to-do people settling on the land overseas as a definite career," the Prince stated.

A Challenge To The Rural School Trustees

Support of Every School Trustee Necessary to Keep the Schools Abreast of Ever-Changing Needs

In a recent address at Saskatoon, Rev. G. W. Kirby, of Calgary, stated that the children of rural Canada never had a square deal and are not getting a square deal today. In his opinion some of the trouble in the rural schools rests with the rural trustee.

What are the facts? Some rural schools are excellent, most of them are fairly good; in number, conditions are unsatisfactory. The condition of the rural school reflects very largely the attitude of the local ratepayer. Where schools are not successful, you will find they are more interested in keeping down the taxes than educating the children and their idea of education is usually limited to the three R's. Naturally, they choose a trustee who will faithfully represent them and their views. The trustee has very little, if any, contact with trustees of other schools. The inspector calls at the school once or twice a year, but the trustee rarely sees him. His relation with the department of education is almost entirely by correspondence. It is not surprising, therefore, that all rural schools are not equally efficient. In what way, can these rural schools be brought to a high standard of efficiency? The work of the teacher and of the department alone cannot solve it. The hearty support and co-operation of every trustee is also necessary to keep the schools abreast of the ever-changing educational needs of the present day. The most important factor in obtaining this happy result is the school trustees' convention, where the trustee mixes with a thousand or more other trustees, engaged in a similar task and faced with like problems.

The next Saskatchewan school trustees' convention will meet in the City Hall, Regina, on February 17th, 18th and 19th. A splendid programme has been prepared that should prove both instructive and entertaining. Among the speakers expected are: C. A. Dunnigan, premier of Saskatchewan; Chief Justice Brown, K.B. Court of Saskatchewan; Professor G. W. Wehr, University of Saskatchewan; Hon. S. J. Latta, minister of education; Ven. Archdeacon Davidson, and Dr. H. J. Snell, of Alberta. A special contribution in music is being made by the Regina College Conservatory of Music, and, as usual, a large part of the time will be devoted to discussion on resolutions. In the past these have usually been well in line with needed reforms in school administration and form a most important part of the convention work. Evidently the trustees at this convention will have a very busy and interesting three days.

RAILWAYS COME UP FOR DEBATE IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa.—Canada's railway problem receives some attention from speakers during the continued debate on the address in the House of Commons. W. F. MacLean, Conservative member for South York, advocated amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways. Unnecessary duplication of lines, with consequent waste of millions, would thus be eliminated, he said, and the new system would be equipped with a great steamship service operating on the two oceans. He told the house that the time had come to sink party feelings and get together to solve the railway problem. The railways, he believed, were willing to discuss a proposal for consolidation.

C. R. McIntosh, Liberal member for North Battleford, who preceded Mr. MacLean, emphasized the importance of the Hudson Bay Railway. It was a short route for Canadian products to the markets of the world he said. Parliament, he thought, should lose no time, once the government made provision for completing the road, in approving it.

From the Progressive seats, John Evans, member for Rosetown, Sask., called the tariff "a diabolical framework between manufacturers and politicians." He estimated that the Canadian people would lose $225,000,000 this year through the tariff.

Increase In Farm Products

Figures For Alberta Issued By Department of Agriculture

Edmonton.—Alberta's agricultural production for 1925 is valued at a total of $256,050,367, showing an increase of $10,617,997 over the total of $215,432,370 for 1924, according to figures just issued by the provincial department of agriculture.

A large share of this increase for the past year is accounted for by the greater value of grain crops produced in the province of 1925, stated H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, in announcing these figures to the delegates to the convention of the Alberta Dairymen's Association here.

A total value of grain crops grown in the province in 1925 is placed at $149,599,914, as compared with $106,699,146 in 1924. Dairy products show a slight decrease of from $23,208,000 in 1924 to $23,002,000 in 1925, a feature which invariably accompanies a year of exceptionally good grain crops.

Reach Agreement On Debt

Easy Terms: Accorded to Italy by Great Britain

London.—Great Britain and Italy have come to a settlement on the Italian war debt. A complete agreement has been reached, as evidenced by an official statement issued which reads:

"Count Volpi (Italian minister of finance) and Mr. Churchill (chancellor of the exchequer) have arrived at a complete agreement on the Italian debt to Great Britain. Formal signature of the funding agreement will take place tomorrow and the text will be available tomorrow evening."

As yet the exact terms of settlement are not known. It seems safe to assume, however, that the British taxpayer will be greatly disappointed, as it is understood that the terms Count Volpi obtained were even better than the terms granted to Italy by the United States.

It is believed that the main lines of the settlement provide for the payment of an annuity of 4,500,000 pounds sterling for 62 years, the annuity commencing forthwith, but possibly with some slight relaxation the first year. Italy renounces the interest on the 22,000,000 pounds sterling in gold deposited with the Bank of England.

Export Of Liquor To U. S.

Say Regulations and Treaty Obligations Are Being Strictly Observed

Ottawa.—Discussing the charges made at the meeting of the Ontario Prohibition Union in Toronto that liquor was being shipped from Canadian ports to the United States and that the Dominion customs officials were issuing regular clearance papers for such shipments, Hon. George H. Bolvin, minister of customs, said that the department of customs was watching closely for any irregularities in the export of liquor.

The minister of customs pointed out that when a certificate is issued on a shipment bound for the United States, the designated United States customs officers are notified of the same.

Mr. Bolvin declared that regulations were being enforced to the letter and all treaty obligations to the United States observed so far as the Dominion department of customs was concerned.

Prince's Horse Drops Dead

London.—The Prince of Wales' horse dropped dead under him while the Prince was hunting at Melton Mowbray, with the Belvoir Hounds.

The Prince had just cleared a fence and on landing his mount fell dead. The Prince fell on his side and sustained a slight bruise but otherwise appeared unhurt.

SENATE URGES U.S. ENTRY INTO WORLD COURT

Washington.—Although the Senate has practically given the decision that the United States shall enter the World Court, the controversy over this question apparently is only beginning. There appears little likelihood that the resolution of adherence will receive the needed two-thirds majority and the reservations which would virtually nullify United States participation are expected to receive but little support.

Proponents of the League of Nations in the United States have already served notice that they intend to follow up entrance into the World Court by a campaign to force the country into the league.

This has aroused the opponents of entry into the World Court more than ever, and they are laying plans in the first place to force the withdrawal of the United States from the court and in the second place to nullify the campaign to get the country into the league.

Senators Borah, Reed of Missouri, and other active opponents of entry into the World Court will appeal to the country and between now and another session of Congress will doubtless have made many speeches with a view to arousing public sentiment.

Will Investigate Atmospheric Disturbances

Sun Spots Play Havoc With Electrical Communication

Winnipeg.—Atmospheric disturbances which have played havoc with electrical communication over a wide expanse of the Dominion during the past few days, will be a subject of investigation by a committee of Winnipeg scientists, electrical experts and other authorities. The committee will launch upon its task during the present week.

Violent disturbances have proved a great annoyance to radio fans since early last fall and according to scientists here the forces of interruption are traced directly to the sun.

"We already have proof here that sunlight interferes with radio transmission. Experiments have shown that the sun kills or weakens long waves and broadens short waves," D. P. R. Coates, superintendent of CKY broadcasting station of Winnipeg, declared in commenting on the recent disturbances.

Investigate Complaints About Canadian Apples

Fruit Not Tainted With Arsenic Says Department of Agriculture

Ottawa.—Canadian apples are not contaminated with arsenic.

Recent complaints that apples grown on this continent often carry a residue of the poisons contained in insecticides used for spraying during their growth has prompted the department of agriculture to make a rigid investigation.

"No trouble has ever arisen over this danger so far as anyone in Canada is aware, through such treatment of apples, and the department is doing all in its power to prevent it happening and anticipate possible trouble," Deputy Minister Dr. J. H. Grisdale stated.

It is understood here that the complaints arose because apples grown in some districts in the United States were said to have retained a quantity of arsenic residue of the Paris green spraying solution used in the orchards.

Sleigh Dog Chases Wolf

Port Arthur, Ont.—Mrs. R. Falshaw, Kaminiatiquia, got a thrilling ride when her sleigh canine, a German police dog, gave chase to a wolf, which had crossed his trail. Despite the fact that he was pulling Mrs. Falshaw and a load of provisions in a toboggan, the dog was winning the race when the wolf headed for the bush and disappeared.

Humane Society Rewards C.P.R. Hero

In recognition of his heroic action when at great personal risk he rescued a lady from being crushed under a tramcar, Joseph Tammaro, clerk and stenographer in the Investigation Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been presented with a certificate of the Royal Canadian Humane Association in the offices of the department at Windsor Street.

The presentation was made by Brig-General E. de B. Panet, chief of the department of investigation, who, in handing over the parchment to Mr. Tammaro, stated the whole department was proud to think he had so
